

Securance Consulting Presents at 2009 Tech Advantage

Tampa, FL – January 2009 – Securance Consulting is pleased to be a part of the TechAdvantage 2009 Conference & Expo. TechAdvantage is the ONLY national event designed specifically for electric cooperative management and professionals in engineering, operations, IT, purchasing and supply management. The conference, hosted by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, will take place mid-February in New Orleans, Louisiana and is expected to draw more than 600 people.

The conference is designed to showcase the latest technology challenges and solutions as relating to the energy industry and electric cooperatives. Paul Ashe, President of Securance Consulting, will be presenting a session on Achieving IT and Business Alignment. This session will provide conference attendees insight into developing methods, policies, and procedures for creating a tighter relationship between “business” and IT.

TechAdvantage is sure to be a successful conference delivering a tremendous amount of value to all those in attendance. As a key exhibitor, Securance Consulting will demonstrate how IT Governance programs and Risk Management Services can be of benefit to all Power Cooperatives.
