

THINK LIKE A HACKER.

Advanced Persistent Threat Simulation Testing

No longer are point-in-time assessments sufficient to prepare enterprises for sophisticated malicious attacks. The answer is to beat hackers at their own game. Here's how Securance helps.

Over a 120 to 180-day period, Securance will simulate an authentic, long-term attack to test the organization's IT environment as changes are made to it throughout the year. This rigorous assessment will gauge the organization's ability to avoid, detect, and respond to advanced persistent threats (APT) aimed at stealing intellectual property and user data and disrupting information systems functionality.

Securance uses innovative tools to perform quiet, persistent network attacks to highlight IT security weaknesses, strengths, and risks—right under the nose of any intrusion prevention | detection system.
